Soft and silky with a touch of white pepper on the finish.

15 44

Junmai, Kagawa Prefecture

Known for its rice-driven style with elegant, rich texture, Kawatsuru pays respect to the crane that symbolizes longevity and good fortune. Mana 1751 “True Vision”

18 51

Yamahai Tokubetsu Junmai, Fukui Prefecture

This sake embraces a truly purist philosophy; undiluted, unblended, pure rice sake made in the risky and labor intensive ancient yamahai method. This is a true microbrewery; with three total employees making 200 koku annually. An aromatic and expressive yamahai with notes of tart yogurt, mushroom, honey, banana and steamed rice. Try this one warm for more umami flavors.

THE WHISKIES OF THE HOUSE OF SUNTORY

YAMAZAKI DISTILLERY

Founded in 1923 by Shinjiro Torii, the Yamazaki Distillery is Japan's first and oldest malt whisky distillery. Yamazaki is not only the soul place of Suntory Whisky but the birthplace of Japanese whisky. Inspired by traditional Scottish whisky, it is said that Torii selected the land of Yamazaki at the foot of Mt. Tennozan for its high-quality water source and natural environment ideal for whisky making. Nestled proudly on the periphery of Kyoto, the area around Yamazaki Distillery has been long referred to as "Minaseno" famous for its exquisite natural water.

YAMAZAKI 18 YEAR MIZUNARA CASK 100TH ANNIVERSARY

The Mizunara cask is a perfect expression of "Tsukuriwake" – the art of diversity in whisky making. Diverse grain types, fermentation, distillation, and maturation techniques underpin Suntory's legendary Art of Blending.

For Suntory's Chief Blender Shinji Fukuyo, every creation is a new journey to achieve the exquisite balance of subtlety, refinement and complexity that is the hallmark of all Suntory whiskies. In his pursuit of true "Mizunara-ness," Fukuyo tasted hundreds of Mizunara whiskies and made selections with varying ages, from 18 years old and beyond. A portion exceeds even 50 years of maturation, which gives this limited edition an incomparable depth and flavor that lingers long after the liquid has passed the lips.

It is said that in the early 1930s, Suntory's blenders began small scale experiments with Mizunara. But it wasn't until the end of World War II, when it became difficult to import wood, that Suntory truly focused on mastering the homegrown Mizunara cask. Although only found in a few regions within Japan, it wasn't Mizunara's rarity that presented the greatest challenge to cask makers. It was the hard, permeable nature of the wood. The name Mizunara comes from the tree's high moisture content – in Japanese "mizu" means water and "nara" means oak. Its permeable character is less than ideal for cask making since liquid can easily seep through the wood. And because Mizunara is a hardwood, it can be difficult to shape and join with the precision needed to prevent leaks.

Through great perseverance, Suntory's craftsmen mastered the art of Mizunara cask-making by learning how to identify the right trees to make the finest casks. Suntory's cask makers found that, although more rare, straight grain trees are less permeable. Trees suitable for cask making must have grown perfectly straight and have a diameter of at least 27.5 inches. They also tend to be far older than trees used in other casks. In keeping with Suntory's deep respect for the environment, trees are only cut if their removal will not jeopardize the health of the forest.

Throughout their long history using Mizunara casks, Suntory's blenders have observed that age is the key to unlocking the signature taste of Mizunara whisky. A long maturation period reveals the distinctive spiciness and incense-like flavor of sandalwood and aloe wood that Suntory considers to be the quintessential "Mizunara-ness." With other cask types, whisky usually reaches a maturation peak at some point. But even after maturing 50 years and beyond, Mizunara whiskies are still improving. This unique ability to support long-term aging affords endless opportunities to experience the evolution and refinement of Mizunara whiskies over time.

HAKUSHU DISTILLERY

The Hakushu Distillery was founded half a century after Yamazaki. Keizo Saji, the second Master Blender, inherited his father's quest to push the boundaries of what a Japanese whisky could be. He had searched all over Japan for high quality water that would produce the most delicately aromatic whisky. After searching with tenacity to the headstreams of rivers and deep into rugged mountains, he found Hakushu. The Hakushu Distillery is one of the highest distilleries in the world, built amidst the deepest forests of Mt. Kaikoma-gatake in the Japanese Southern Alps. The malt whiskies that are born here are simultaneously blessed with a very particular microclimate, verdant forests, and water offering a rare softness and purity, made possible only by filtration of rain and snow through thousand-year-old granite rocks.

HAKUSHU 18 YEAR 100TH ANNIVERSARY PEATED MALT

Keizo Saji and his team took on the challenge of working with peat for Hakushu. "Peated" is a term most often associated with Scotch whiskies. The island of Islay in particular, is renowned for the tradition of smoky whiskies that feature heavy peat flavors. But for Hakushu, peated means something special. Hakushu brings a subtly smoky Japanese single malt, soft and sweet, made from the House of Suntory's "Mountain Forest Distillery," nestled deep in the Japanese Southern Alps. A new interpretation of "peated whisky" that serves as a tribute to all Hakushu fans. Refined and elegant, this centennial Hakushu of 100% Peated Malts brings a new angle to peated whisky—an expression the House of Suntory lovingly refers to as "Japanese smoke." The smoke here is less pungent, never dominant and like all things Japanese, complex and gentle. The result is a spicy, peppery welcome, with a slow wave of smoke that deepens as it reveals its herbaceous notes and green fruity undertones.

THE WHISKIES OF KUJIRA

MASAHIRO DISTILLERY

Kujira, meaning “whale” in Japanese, is a symbol of liberty, generosity, and peace. The largest creature in the natural world and abundant in the Pacific Ocean surrounding the islands, the whale is considered the guardian of tranquility and nature to the people of Ryukyu and Okinawa.

Pioneer of a new kind of whisky, Kujira innovated in grain whiskies by using a cereal that had never been used for whisky before and more traditionally associated with other spirits from Japan. Founded in 1952, the Kumesen Syuzo Company began distilling spirits made from long grain Indica rice and fermented with native black koji, a unique koji that can only be found in Okinawa. These grain whiskies made from rice, also called “Ryukyu” whiskies, draw their roots from the production of Awamori, Okinawa’s ancient alcohol. The history of Ryukyu whiskies began with the desire to create a spirit that combined the know-how of ancient rice distillation with the tradition of aging whisky in bourbon barrels instead of the traditional earthen jars used for Awamori. In ancient times, the people of Ryukyu crafted Awamori and presented the spirit to the royal court. In more recent times, barrel-aged spirits distilled from rice became popular among the American soldiers stationed in Okinawa.

THE WHISKIES OF MARS

MARS SHINSHU DISTILLERY

Located between Japan’s soaring Southern Alps and Central Alps at just over 2,600 feet, Mars Shinshu is Japan’s highest whisky distillery. The Hombo family has been distilling for more than a century. Until 1984, it was the southernmost whisky made in Japan, which ended when the Hombo clan moved the distillery to the idyllic alpine setting of Miyada village in southern Nagano Prefecture, Central Japan. They chose this site for its cool temperature, which slowed maturation, and the plentiful granite-filtered, snowmelt-fed aquifers. A beautiful choice for creating whiskies that are elegant, sophisticated, and very complex. In 2016, Hombo Shuzo reopened and introduced new pot stills to their first distillery location in Kagoshima. They also built an aging facility on a tiny island known as Yakushima, a National World Heritage site, where they now age spirits from both Shinshu and Tsunuki distilleries.

THE KOMAGATAKE SERIES

The Komagatake Single Malt is Mars Shinshu’s continually evolving series of whiskies that showcase the depth generated in this Nagano based distillery. The 2018 Edition is aged in bourbon and white oak casks and is completely independent of the 2021 expression, with richer aromas of grilled stone fruit, honied prunes, hazelnuts, and smoke due to the blending of peated and unpeated barley. By contrast, the 2021 Edition is unpeated and bright with aromas of quince, apricot, and banana. The Komagatake 2022 release marks the transition from the limited releases seen under the Komagatake label to an annual edition that reflects the core single malt house style for Mars Shinshu; an exciting benchmark for ongoing releases.

THE WHISKIES OF VENTURE CHICHIBU

CHICHIBU DISTILLERY

Risen from the ashes of the legendary Hanyu Distillery, Chichibu was established in 2004 by master distiller and blender Ichiro Akuto and at the time was Japan's first independent distillery to open in over three decades. It all started some three centuries ago when the first of Ichiro Akuto's forefathers began making alcoholic beverages in Saitama Prefecture. His Grandfather began making whisky in the mid 1940's with Hanyu Distillery, whose focus on malt whiskies took off with the Japanese economic boom of the 1980's. However, when the bubble burst in the 1990's, so too did the first Japanese Whisky boom, leading Hanyu distillery and many others to close their doors indefinitely. Thankfully, Ichiro Akuto, grandson of the distillery's founder, was not ready to see over 20 years' worth of his family's hard work go to waste and so, with financial backing from Sasanokawa Shuzo, he purchased all the remaining casks. These casks would go on to become some of the rarest and most sought-after Japanese whisky releases of all time, including the record-breaking "Playing Card Series" that is now legendary with individual bottles being considered the unicorns of the Japanese whisky world.

With this success Ichiro saw that the revival of artisan Japanese whisky was imminent and opened his own distillery in the beautiful Chichibu region two hours west of Tokyo. Uniquely, Chichibu Distillery also built its own cooperage and floor malting facility on site, anomalies by any measured distillery standard. The distillery is the only in the world to use 100% Mizunara Japanese oak washbacks, which creates the distinctly fruitier Ichiro's Malt style of whisky. All of this coupled with continuous evaluation by nose and tasting daily rather than timed measurements adds to the illustrious status of this small yet impactful distillery.

NIKKA – THE EVOLUTION (1 oz. pours) $46

Yoichi Distillery

Masataka Taketsuru was born into a sake brewing family in Hiroshima and is the first distiller of Japanese whisky. He began his career as the Master distiller of Yamazaki distillery and was the first Japanese apprentice of whisky in Scotland. He learned the craft of making great whisky in Speyside at Longmorn distillery. Yoichi, the place chosen by Masataka as his first distillery, was close to the sea, surrounded by mountains on three sides and in many ways, like Highland in Scotland. Masataka valued the climate and natural features of the north as the proximity to the sea is one of the distinctive features of Yoichi. The sea breeze gives a briny hint to the whisky during the maturation. Nose: herbaceous peat, salt, leather. Palate: Firm and powerful with notes of almond, coffee, and spices.

Miyagikyo Distillery

Masataka aimed to make his blend more complex by widening the variety of whiskies. He wanted to develop a complete contrast between Yoichi Distillery and Miyagikyo Distillery. Along with the different terroir, the unique distillation method of Miyagikyo creates distinctive malt whiskies. Pot stills are heated by indirect steam at a much lower temperature that allows slower distillation. This method, along with other contrasting distillation techniques and technology, results in the soft and floral characteristics Miyagikyo is known for. Nose: Malted barley, exotic fruit, sherry, apples. Palate: Cocoa, black cherry, tropical fruit with a lively finish.

Taketsuru Pure Malt

Taketsuru Pure Malt is a marriage of whiskies distilled at both Yoichi and Miyagikyo Distilleries. This is a signature label in honor of Nikka's founder, Masataka Taketsuru. This tribute to Masataka achieves its complexity by precise blending inherited from the founder. Once the single malts from Yoichi and Miyagikyo have been distilled for this pure malt, they are aged for an average of ten years in various types of oak casks before being vatted together to create the final blend. Nose: Soft and floral with green fruits, lemon, and brown sugar. Palate: Full-bodied and lush with peat and oak.
